Biography

Butch: I am the youngest son of a pastor, and God changed my life forever by sending me on a work team to Papua New Guinea when I was 24. The burden for outreach to underprivileged countries from that trip has never changed. It has been handed down to all our children, who have a love for people around the world. After the death of my father in 2011, I believe the torch that burned so brightly in his hands to preach the good news has passed on to me.

Leatha: Everything good and every precious person in my life has been a gift from God. My yearning is to share the good news: that our Father God created, loves, guides, disciplines, hears, and remembers us and walks beside us.

After serving as missionaries in PNG, we are now based in the US, working with Men With Vision.
