Biography

Our call comes from an understanding of the need for continued care and disciple-making of those within the body of Christ who serve God's kingdom in unfamiliar, challenging, and difficult locations and circumstances.

As former missionaries to Mexico and pastors in Ohio and Pennsylvania, we have experienced the trials that servants of the gospel face as they minister. We understand language and cultural barriers, experiencing loneliness, the misinterpretation of our intentions by those we are called to serve, and the many family-related tests that can develop.

In addition to the challenges, we know through experience the victories of seeing lives changed, watching the church grow, and God being glorified in redeemed lives.
