Biography

For many years, we lived and served at Olderkesi, a remote community among the Maasai tribe in Kenya. The Lord provided many opportunities for ministry there.

Jon was involved in community health and development and coordinated Maasai Community Health, a small primary healthcare program. He also served as acting director of Olderkesi Development Program, mentoring his Kenyan colleague for leadership.

Vera ministered to Maasai children, teaching as many as 90 children some Sundays in a children's church program at local churches around Olderkesi. In addition to maintaining her own home, Vera also served as hostess to the numerous visitors to the work at Olderkesi by housing, feeding, and generally making them feel at home while away from home.

In 2013, we felt the Lord leading us away from Olderkesi and into field leadership. We now serve in the role of Africa regional directors for WGM.
