Biography

Richard is a retired missionary to Kenya and Tanzania. Retirement has also given Richard more opportunities to work as a videographer, a passion he developed during his years in ministry. He calls this work the “ultimate adventure in excitement and joy.”

The challenge to “get the picture from concept to screen” has fueled Richard’s love for creative media. Seeing how viewers both in the U.S. and on the mission field respond to hearing the story of Christ through video is one of Richard’s greatest joys. “I just thank the Lord for giving me the privilege to experience and enjoy this continuing ministry in these retirement years,” he said.
